Per your email dated Oct 29, 2017 at 11:06 PM you asked me for a response regarding a story you're publishing; My response is that I no longer do interviews with East County Magazine, nor with imposter so called reporters who use fake names and aliases and who create Youtube channels also under fake names and aliases. East County Magazine is under investigation for not paying their employees and failing to disclose and file financial information according to the laws bound by the State of California. And, because of the foregoing, my media interviews are only scheduled with reputable and legitimate media outlets.

Your Obedient Servant
