PUBLIC MEETING

Investigation at Camp Lockett, a Formerly Used Defense Site

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) will conduct a public meeting to present information on the upcoming Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study (RI/FS) at Camp Lockett. Camp Lockett is a Formerly Used Defense Site (FUDS) located in San Diego County and surrounding the town of Campo, California. Camp Lockett was initially used by the U.S. Army for cavalry training and border defense, then for training of troops during World War II. After its use as a training range, portions of Camp Lockett were used for the Mitchell Convalescent Hospital and for a prisoner of war camp.

The purpose of the RI/FS is to determine the possible presence and extent of contamination resulting from the military training activities. USACE representatives will provide information on the upcoming investigation and answer any questions the public may have.
