Final Score	1	2	3	4	--	Final
UNLV	0	7	0	0	--	7
San Diego State	10	3	7	6	--	26

Big Notes

- San Diego State outgained UNLV, 460-122, tied for the 13th-largest yard differential (338 yards) in its Division I history (since 1969). It was the 25th time in its DI history that SDSU had at least a 300-yard advantage in total yards.
- The Aztecs held the Rebels to just 122 yards of total offense, the fourth-fewest allowed by SDSU in its Division I history. UNLV's 122 yards were its fifth fewest in a game in at least 20 years (since 1996).
- SDSU held UNLV to just nine passing yards, ranked as the fourth-fewest allowed in its DI history. They were also the second fewest in a game by UNLV in at least 20 years (since 1996).
- San Diego State is 4-1 for the first time in 20 years (since 1996).
- The Aztecs won their 12th consecutive game against a conference opponent (including the win over Air Force in the 2015 Mountain West Championship), which is tied with Clemson for the longest active conference winning streak in FBS.
- SDSU has outscored the opposition, 410-142, over the 12-game conference winning streak.
- San Diego State has won 12 straight home games against conference opponents.
- The Aztecs held the Rebels to 122 total yards and now have held 17 consecutive conference opponents to less than 400 yards of total offense, the longest active streak in FBS.
- SDSU had two 100-yard rushers in the same game for the fourth time in the last 15 contests and 22nd time in school history. San Diego State is now 21-1 when it has multiple 100-yard rushers.
- SDSU won its fourth straight conference opener for the first time since accomplishing the feat in their first seven seasons of Division I play (1969-75) while in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA).
- San Diego State has won five consecutive home conference openers for the first time since winning seven straight from 1987-93.
- The Aztecs won their 26th consecutive game when rushing for at least 200 yards. SDSU is now 34-2 in the Rocky Long era when rushing for 200-plus yards.

Team Notes

- San Diego State outscored UNLV, 13-7, in the first half and has now outscored the opposition, 305-101, in the first half over its last 15 games.
- The Aztecs have a rushing touchdown in 17 straight games (43 total) and in 27 of their last 28 games, and 14 straight with multiple rushing scores (40 total).
- UNLV's 4.50 yards per completion were the second-lowest average against SDSU in its Division I history (1969) and best since a 1.00 mark vs. Utah State on Nov. 30, 1974. Three of the five lowest marks in the DI era were Rocky Long coached teams.
- UNLV averaged just 0.69 yards per attempt, the third lowest in SDSU's Division I history (since 1969) and lowest since a school-record 0.20 mark against Utah State on Nov. 30, 1974.
- UNLV's 5.82 pass efficiency rating was fourth lowest in the DI era against SDSU and lowest since a DI record -8.57 vs. Arizona on Nov. 10, 1979.
